Ballet To Be Given At Concert

The Viennese Ballet Ensemble is to make its local debut at the Gill coliseum in Corvallis on Tuesday, February 20. A program of dances set to the music of Mozart, Schubert, Chopin and Strauss will be presented.

The troupe, which recently arrived from Vienna, preceded its American engagement with a tour of Europe. The Ensemble features a unique program which captures the spirit of old Vienna.

The ensemble of women was organized six years ago by Grete Wiesenthal, who had achieved a notable reputation on the continent where her creations have been featured in such theaters as the Vienna Opera and at the Salzburg Festival. Mme. Wiesenthal is still the director of the Viennese Ballet.

Hailed in Europe as "the best Viennese ballet," their current tour will take them to more than 40 American cities.

Buses will leave Todd hall Tuesday evening, February 20. Admission for students is student body cards plus 50 cents for bus fare.

Relations Club Plans To Have Guest Speaker

At the International Relations club meeting on Tuesday evening, the current issue of the draft was discussed, including the drafting of 18-year-olds and childless married veterans. The evening's activities were enlightened by Joe Cole and Claude Barlow agreeing on an issue.

Next week's meeting of the club has been postponed to Wednesday, February 21, at 8:00 p.m. in room 117 of the Administration building. At this time Mr. Barry of the Urban League of Portland will be guest speaker. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The topic for discussion at the next regular club meeting on Tuesday, February 27, is "Is the National Emergency Justifiable?"

Off-Campus Girl Views Advantages And Disadvantages of Housing Set-Up

By Adelaide Alberti

When I moved off-campus at the beginning of this term, I was bombarded by questions from dormitory girls asking me how I liked it. I am usually stumped for a ready reply, because it isn't a question that can be answered in a sentence. I like living off-campus, but I liked living in the dormitory too. It is difficult to compare the two. Both have their advantages and disadvantages. I had a wonderful time living in the dorm, and I really believe it is an experience no one should miss.

Many girls at some time or other contemplate moving off-campus and these are the questions that some of them have asked me:

1. "Is it really less expensive?" The answer is, of course, yes. Remember that at the dorm your food is cooked and served to you, and glory be! you don't have to wash dishes!

Brotherhood Is National Theme

Brotherhood Week, the annual one-week event of the 52-week program for democracy, is beginning on February 18, 1951. The National Conference of Christians and Jews is sponsoring a program designed to free the world of bigotry and prejudice. It is a program designed to use the power of education, the force of religion, and the membership of all community organizations and social services.

Under Eric Johnson, leader of Brotherhood Week, all free nations of the world will take part in consolidating and harnessing the moral and spiritual forces of the world for the preservation of the dignity of man.

The money required to help insure survival of democracy and justice is $3,542,000. Truly a lot of money but a small price to pay for the values which Brotherhood Week will attain. Let's get behind it and support this effort.

Government Discussed

Student government and its advantages to the school and to the participating students, will be the topic of discussion on OCE's radio broadcast at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, February 20, over station KOAC. Taking part in the discussion will be members of the OCE executive council, Paul Lee, Joyce Martin, Margaret Mills, and Bob Norton. Dean of Men Delmer R. Dewey will act as moderator for the broadcast.

Actor Group Gives Old Day Melodrama

The Virginia City Players, a famed dramatic group of the Old West, presented "Miriam's Crime" or, as it is sometimes called, "Innocent Sin," in Campbell hall auditorium on Wednesday evening, February 14. The play was a melodrama and dealt with the burning of the will of Miriam's benefactress, Mrs. Wilson, by Miriam in the hope that Bernard, Mrs. Wilson's nephew and the object of Miriam's affections, would inherit her fortune.

Complications developed, but it all came out right in the end and the final question was left to the audience—whether or not a sin committed in innocence of the consequences was as serious as one committed under other conditions.

Between the acts the "Second-Hand Rose" and the "Physician's Song," better known as "Castor Oil" were sung.

After the play a vaudeville show was given by the members of the cast. This included several numbers by a barber shop quartet, some accordion numbers, and songs, "In the Usual Way," "Teasin'," "Sweet Betsey from Pike," "Frankie and Johnny," and a parody of "When I Was a Lad," from Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "H.M.S. Pinafore." The final number was a pantomime of Ben Tone's poem, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew."

Carler's Classes Hear Mormon Missionaries

Wednesday at 3:00 p.m. in the little auditorium of the Administration building, two Mormon missionaries spoke to Miss Carler's classes and to other interested students. Elder Sporlied led the agenda with a short dissertation on the history of Mormonism. Elder Johnson then spoke of the highly integrated structure of their church organization and of the various welfare organizations which the church maintains to support its own people.

Many heretofore unknown tenets were brought to light. Particularly unique in the Mormon church are the giant warehouses that store food and clothing for the less fortunate members of their society and also as a safeguard for times of need.

These two men are among hundreds of such young people who put aside their daily tasks to undertake missions for the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints. When their tour of mission is completed, they both will return to their homes and resume their normal life.

Kappa Pi's Sponsor Hobby Exhibition

The hobby show, a feature of the coming Folks' Festival week-end, is being sponsored by Kappa Pi, national art honorary. The hobbies will be displayed on Friday, Feb. 23, and Saturday, Feb. 24, in the Campbell hall art rooms.

Members of the faculty and students are welcomed and urged to offer their hobbies for display. The faculty members are requested to bring their hobbies to their offices, where they will be picked up by Kappa Pi members. Students are instructed to see Ann Engborg or to leave a note in student post office (Continued on Page Three)

Festival Plans Give Folks Full Week-End

There is still time to send your parents an invitation to Folks' Festival which is to be held on the OCE campus this week-end, February 23 and 24. Invitations and sheets to fill out for the information of the committee, will be available in the student post office until Wednesday.

A full program has been planned for the parents. Friday night there will be a basketball game with square dancing at the half. The first thing Saturday morning will be registration at Maple hall from 10:00 to 12:00. When the folks have registered, students will have until 11 o'clock to take them around the campus to see the various department displays. Then from 11 until 12, there will be a musical program in the Campbell hall auditorium.

From 12:30 until 2 o'clock a luncheon will be held in the Todd hall dining room. In the Todd hall living room from 2:00 until 3:00 p.m. there will be a mothers' club meeting and at the same time at Arnold Arms, a fathers' club meeting will be held.

From 3:00 to 5:00 p.m., a style show will be presented in Maple hall for the mothers. This style show will feature the currently popular clothes on the campus with a "flapper" feature presented by LaVae Griffith and Lila Mae Poppish. At the same time a "smoker" will be going on for the fathers in the PE building.

Dinner in Todd hall will be from 5:30 until 6:30 o'clock. Saturday night, there will be another basketball game with entertainment at the half again. After the game there will be a one-act play given in Maple hall.

'Pygmalion' Will Be Shown February 28

A motion picture production of George Bernard Shaw's comedy "Pygmalion" starring Leslie Howard and Wendy Hills, will be shown on February 28. The student body and the English department are cooperating to bring this film to the campus.

There will be two showings, one in the afternoon and one in the evening, both of which will be open to the entire student body. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged to help cover the cost of this film.

The name of Shaw's play comes from a Greek legend in which a sculptor by the name of Pygmalion carved a statue which he called Galatea. This statue later came to life. Shaw's "Galatea" is a London flower girl who is transformed into a charming woman of the world by three months' labor on the part of a professor of phonetics, and is successfully exhibited in a London drawing room. The girl's father, Mr. Doolittle, a dustman, who eloquently presents the cause of the "undeserving poor" until he is suddenly made respectable by a legacy from a philanthropist, is one of Shaw's most amusing characters.

Scholastic Honorary Selects Five Pledges

New members accepted this term by Sigma Epsilon Pi, women's scholastic honorary, are Juanita Roberts, Shirley Oliver, Patricia Keep, Betty Anderson and Juanita Griffin. The women were informed of the honor during the chapel service on Friday, February 16. Gwen Stilwell, president of the organization, states that a formal induction service will be held in the near future.

Principals List Teaching Traits

Monday evening, February 12, the F.T.A. heard two speakers, Mr. Beck, superintendent of the Canby schools and a graduate of SOCE, and Mr. Doyle McAninch, principal of the Dundee elementary school and a graduate of OCE. They spoke on what superintendents expect in a beginning teacher. Mr. Beck discussed such points as personal qualifications, professional and social traits, and management and techniques. Mr. McAninch emphasized the teacher as a leader and person in community affairs. He said that the student should keep in mind such things as professional-mindedness, a liking for children, maintaining average grades while in college, and being a good worker.

The purpose of teacher education was also brought to the attention of the listeners. Gaining a better understanding of children and enlargement of social contacts were considered important. It was pointed out that the student should learn all he can about modern teaching methods but should keep in mind that he must cooperate with the established system of his particular school.

Mr. Beck encouraged the students to take an active interest in the legislation for education.

At the short business meeting preceding the discussion, Melvin Peterson was elected FTA publicity chairman.

Dr. Maaske at Meeting

Dr. Roben J. Maaske, president of Oregon College of Education, and Miss Margaret Perry, from the Independence elementary school staff, are attending an educators' conference in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

ONLY ACTION GETS RESULTS

The refereeing wrongs at intramural basketball games seem to be the topic of the season. So many gripes are heard hereabouts that this writer thinks it is about time we opened an office for the specific purpose of listening to the complaints of those who participate in this intramural sport. Joe Schlunk and Alberto Zilch claim that their aggregation of sportsmen were on the receiving end of a raw deal during their last game and wonder why there aren't some better refs available. Abercrombie Fudd claims that the refs call fouls just to "cut up" if they feel rather zany on some particular night. The big question seems to be—what shall we do about this state of affairs?

It seems rather strange that the people engaged in intramural basketball can't get together and talk the matter over with the person in charge. The person who complains has no room to do so unless he is trying in some manner to alleviate the situation. Only action gets results.

TOGETHERNESS

The man was a Jew in whose name Christianity was founded.

Before there was Protestantism, there was Roman Catholicism.

These religions together form the spiritual base of our Western culture. Ours is properly described as a Judeo-Christian culture.

That is the way it is on this side of the Iron Curtain.

On the other side is the anti-Christ, the anti-semitic, the philosophy of irreligious materialism. Men who put the state and a materialistic dogma above all other values rule that valley of darkness.

The world of light and the world of darkness contest bitterly for the minds of men. Not forever can the world be divided, white here, black there.

Religion against materialism.

Spirit against things.

Freedom against tyranny.

Catholic, Protestant and Jew as one against the forces of darkness. In the greater unity that comes of tolerance is our strength. Never before have we so much needed togetherness. Tolerance can light the way.

Miss Claggett Receives Letter Written By English Child Who Has No Hands

By Miss Sylvia Claggett

It was my privilege during my year in England to visit many kinds of schools. Among the most interesting was the Bethesda Home for Crippled Children.

The children were especially delighted to welcome an American. I was the first most of them had seen because they had spent all of their years in the hospital.

I was thrilled and cheered to see children without hands, legs or feet so well-adjusted and happy. I was amazed at their abilities to compensate for these physical defects. Perhaps you might be interested in one of these letters, written by a child of nine who had no hands. It is as follows:

Dear Miss Claggett:

We have had a very nice Christmas and I hope you have too. On Boxing Day* we had our present off the Christmas tree and Father Christmas came. Thank you for the

Welcome Extended to New Collecto Members

The old members of Collecto Coeds would like to extend their welcome to their new members, Helen Stevens, Alice Hardie, Eleanor Fulmore, LaVae Griffith, Norma Barackman, Mabel McKenzie and Beverly Briem. Congratulations, girls!

The club is very proud of their president, Ann Engberg, who was named by the Wolf Knights as their 1950-51 Sweetheart. Ann was chosen because of her friendliness and services on the campus. Congratulations, also to John Herbert, who was chosen by Collectos for their Sweetheart.

The week before the Sweetheart Ball the girls worked on decorations. Mrs. R. E. Lieuallen, adviser for the club, was seen swinging a paint brush and helping in various other ways. The girls certainly appreciated her help!

Now that the Ball is over, the members are back to their regular duties. Five members ushered at the Virginia City Players' performance last Wednesday night. Friday and Saturday night Collectos sold Cokes at the basketball game between OCE and OTL.

Unitarian To Speak

Mr. R. S. Barber, assistant pastor of the First Unitarian church in Portland, will speak on the Unitarian faith on Sunday, February 25, at a meeting of the Wesley club.

Reverend Dudley Strain of Salem spoke on the First Christian church, last Sunday, February 18. This meeting was followed by an open-house at the Albin home.

very nice book you sent us all and how different it is to English books.

We did a play on Boxing Day and I was Rachel and a child of Bethlehem and when we were doing the play we had our photos taken and at the last we had it all together.

On Monday we went to a pantomime to see Jack and the Beanstalk and when we came back we had a nice tea.

I have been to Roehampton, near London, to be measured for artificial hands.

I was going to stay there one night but it snowed and we could not come back so I stayed one more night.

CUPID OR NOT?

Sam hastily plowed his arms into the sleeves of his too-starched, too small shirt. Now for the collar—which is incongruous with Sam's Adam's apple. He glanced into the mirror, viewing the bobbling cartilage with mounting disgust, and viewing with alarm a brightly-hued complexion. Oh, well, on with the struggle—who ever invented a tie? Just can't seem to get it tied right. "Hey, Charlie, come here!" With a burst of energy, Charlie explodes into the room.

Twenty minutes later we find Charlie standing on a chair behind the agonized Sam, tying and retying a rather smudgy, stringy looking tie. "I'm sorry, I said I'd go, now!" Success, at last — Sam's brow is beady with perspiration, he mops his face, combs his hair and rushing into his jacket, flies out the door. "Rush, rush, rush," he muttered, "I'm always rushing!"

Betty also is struggling vainly with stockings, girdle and strapless bra—the horrors of womankind. Just about as uncomfortable as a gal can become. Now for shoes—brand new, too stiff, will never be able to dance all evening in these. Wonder what Sam will think of the new dress. It has that finished, sophisticated look—but no straps—hope it stays in place, just can't run around on the dance floor tugging at it.

"I'm worn out, wish I hadn't promised to go. Alice, come here! I can't find my brush! Oh, I'm a sight, can't bear to face Sam looking like a scrub woman." Rush, rush, rush!

"Betty, you look beautiful —" "Oh, so do you, Sam. Like my dress —?" "Mmmm, pretty, how do you keep it up?" "Oh, Sam!" Idle chatter, nothing more. Off to the big formal — two people who but ten minutes before had been madly scurrying and muttering glumly. A new world has been created in the gym — one of fantasy, imagination and color. It's St. Valentine's Day—"Betty, be my Valentine?" — "Yes, Sam!"

Inter-Varsity Views 'Thousand Tongues'

Melvin Hart started the Monday evening Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship meeting with group singing. Earl Brockway introduced the inspiring film "Oh, for a Thousand Tongues." It was announced that a party is planned for March 2. Details will be released later.

The next IVCF meeting will be held on February 26 and there will be a guest speaker.

Miller Girls Go on Trip to Hoodoo Bowl

Several of the girls from Miller house took the overnight ski trip to Hoodoo last week-end. At the present time here's wishing them success and hoping there are no broken bones in the house.

Congratulations go to Faye Welty who celebrated her birthday last week.

Seems that "Flopsy" has joined the ranks of those hit by cupid's dart. Of course, he is the only Miller house resident who comes in after closing hours.

Two more of the Miller house girls have joined the scholastic rank. Congratulations to Shirley Oliver and Juanita Roberts who were accepted into Sigma Epsilon Pi.

Because of the popularity of the Folk and Square Dance class. Theta Delta Phi has changed its meeting date so that more members will be able to attend. Meetings are scheduled for the first and third Thursdays of each month at 7:00 p.m. in room 111 of Campbell hall.

Thursday thus becomes a "double header" day for the fraternity. The noon luncheons are also on Thursdays, instead of Tuesdays, as previously reported.

Birthday Celebration Held for Marcia Berry

It seems that every door in West house has a sign saying "Please Do Not Disturb!" Everyone is trying to get at least a three-point.

A former West house resident, Muriel Ongstad, is now holding the position of private secretary for the principal of the Clatskanie grade school.

Two tables were pushed together at Todd hall Tuesday night. Around the tables sat all of the West house girls and their house mother. This gala occasion was in honor of Marcia Berry who celebrated her 21st birthday. The table was decorated with hearts.

Tuesday night there was a mad scramble in the hall by the phone, as money piled up on the floor. Marcia got a "collect" call from San Diego, so all the girls were scraping together their loose change. Enough was found and Marcia got her call. The girls got their money back since the money was sent to her.

4. "Do you like living off-campus better than in the dorm?" This is a question that I can never quite answer. Living off-campus does have its disadvantages, too. When living off-campus, the chances are there will not be a place to entertain fellows as there was in the dorm. In an off-campus house one is not in the middle of things the way she is at the dorm. Todd hall is the pulse-beat of college life; off-campus one doesn't have the many people popping into her room all of the time. This I miss very much.

As for myself, I am very happy that I have had both experiences—that of living in Todd hall, and that of keeping house for myself. No matter how much of a share you have taken in the management of your mother's home you will find that managing your own home away from home and being completely on your own is an entirely different situation. It can also be a lot of fun!

College Book Includes Section About OCE

The new edition of "Mapping Your Education," a book written to provoke high school students to serious thought about career planning and to encourage intelligent college choice, has been put on display in the OCE library. That there are four pages in this book concerning Oregon College of Education should be of interest to OCE students. Included in the section, besides a full page picture of the PE building and several students, are the registration figures for fall term, 1950-51, a summary of costs, and additional information on admission policies and procedures, financial aids, part-time employment, student personnel services, and extra-curricular activities.

Roy E. Lieuallen, registrar at Oregon College of Education, had a part in planning the book.

Smoker Contest To Give Thrills

In the smoker that is to be held at 3 p.m. on Saturday, February 24, there will be four good matches and eight good men.

Jim Gooding, a professional fighter, will meet John Pizzuti in the Folks' Festival headliner. Jim was a professional in the Portland ranks a short time back while Pizzuti's claim to fame lies in the Golden Gloves championship of New Jersey.

Don Dinsmore, state AAU champ in 1945, meets rough and ready Ed Pritchard in the first boxing contest of the afternoon.

In the wrestling spotlight there are two matches that should make the folks sit on the edge of their seats. In the big and burly group, two real heavies will square off Dick Vanderzanden tips the scales at 235 pounds, while the small guy of the pair, George Watts weighs in at 215. This is all bone, muscle and a little fat.

In the faster and lighter weights there promises to be a real show as Verne Buehler, brother of Pacific Coast College Champion Paul Buehler, will tangle holds with wiry little Ted Forbes in what will probably keep the spectators dizzy trying to keep up with the boys.

The referee is also a very capable person. It is none other than Bob Knox as the third man. John Dalke will be one of the judges with one still to be chosen.

Wolf Basketeers Divide Local Series With OTI Owls

The OCE cagers unleashed a sharp passing attack in the second half of Saturday night's basketball encounter to break Oregon Tech's zone defense and provide a 64-61 win over the visiting Owls. The victory gave the Wolves an even split in the series. OTI won Friday night 83-75.

After trailing 36-30 at the half, the locals caught fire and grabbed the lead at 41-40. From there on out it was touch and go, with the Wolves maintaining a two to six point lead throughout the frantic closing minutes.

Homer Duncan of OTI led all scorers with 22 counters. "Moose" Moorhead, playing his best game of the season, paced OCE with 17.

The officials were the center of attraction during Friday's fracas, as they tooted a total of 51 fouls. The Wolves were called down 33 times and the Techmen 18. Between the whistle blasts the Owls found time to supply a blistering scoring trio in the aforementioned Duncan and guards Don Sutphin and V. Hammock. Duncan and Hammock tallied 22 apiece while Sutphin, the league's leading scorer, added 19.

The game was close only for the first 10 minutes, then the OTI squad pulled away to a 37-30 half time edge. Chuck Humble led the Wolves' point-making efforts with 16 and Howard Sullivan counted 14.

Powers led by at least eight points all through the second half and their lead was never seriously threatened. Sam Slonecker and Jack Bushnell, both ex-OCE students, led the Powers attack with 19 and 15 points, respectively. Lineups:
